

This interactive workshop delivers a dynamic, hands-on experience with Dragonfly, centered on the VolumeEM modality. Participants will work directly within VolumeEM to explore how to apply advanced segmentation techniques, extract quantitative insights, and create publication-ready visual outputs. Designed to be both practical and technically engaging, the session showcases optimized workflows to help attendees maximize performance in their projects.